

We Need You...Become an Ethics Integration Specialist!

Working in conjunction with the Daniels Fund Ethics Initiative, MBA Research is currently looking for ten (10) Career and Technical Education (CTE) teachers from around the U.S. to become advocates for bringing ethics into the classroom. Upon completion of in-depth Ethics Integration Specialist training provided free of charge by MBA Research, participating teachers will be expected to share their knowledge of ethics with other educators in their state via presentations at professional conferences, webinars, local district professional development events, etc.

Who Should Apply? All CTE classroom teachers who believe in the necessity of integrating ethics into current curricula or are interested in leading the way to implement ethical leadership course material into the classroom are encouraged to apply. Be sure to share this information with other teachers you know. We are looking for a broad range of teachers within CTE at the high school level.

How Do I Apply? Click here to access the online application.

What Is the Deadline for Application? All applications must be submitted by January 13, 2023. All applicants will be contacted of our decision no later than January 20, 2023.

Where and When Will Training Take Place? The 2-day training will be held March 31–April 1, 2023, and will take place at MBA Research’s office, 1375 King Avenue, Columbus, OH 43212.

Why Should I Apply? You’ll gain valuable professional development while also helping your colleagues grow as educators—all with the ultimate goal of building students’ knowledge of ethics, ethical decision-making, ethical principles, and more! You will also earn a stipend upon meeting the requirements for training other teachers in your state.

What Is the Cost of Training? $0. All travel expenses, per MBA Research policy, will be covered, including flight, hotel, meals, and transportation to/from the airport. As needed, substitute costs, up to $150 per day, will also be paid.

What Are the Roles and Responsibilities of an Ethics Integration Specialist?

This is required AFTER being selected.

Teachers selected to participate in the Ethics Integration Specialist training will be responsible for the following:

- Complete and submit a Letter of Recommendation from your school/district administrator or state department of education program leader/consultant to document your success in presenting to adult learners.
- Have your administrator complete and submit the Ethics Integration Administration Authorization form.
- Participate in an extensive 2-day training scheduled for March 31–April 1, 2023, in its entirety.
- Utilize training materials developed by MBA Research to deliver ethics training to a minimum of 100 additional teachers/educators who will then bring ethics resources to students in their classroom.
- Provide no fewer than five trainings to reach the minimum of 100 additional teachers/educators by June 30, 2024. Workshop training materials provided will consist of a 1-hr module, a 3-hr module, and a 1-day module. At least one of the five required training sessions must include a 3-hour OR 1-day module.
- Participate in no fewer than three ongoing support and assistance opportunities provided by MBA Research throughout the 2023–2024 school year. These opportunities may include phone, email, and/or conference calls/webinars (dates TBD).
- Document and submit training reports per MBA Research instructions.

What Is the Incentive for Participating in the Ethics Integration Specialist Training?

MBA Research will pay up to a $1,500 stipend to each participating teacher, which will be distributed as follows:

- $500 for attending and participating in the 2-day training on March 31–April 1, 2023, in its entirety.
- $1,000 upon completion of the above Roles and Responsibilities of an Ethics Integration Specialist.
